

If the No Call regulations are weakened for the banking industry, what special interest group would petition to be an exception next? Telemarketing from any source is intrusive and annoying. I would vote to add fundraisers to the No Call list. I realize they need to reach a lot of people to meet their needs. Money saved on long distance could add a large pot of money for their needs.